

Fabian Scheugenpflug, Principal at Plug&Play:

Fabian Scheugenpflug is a trained medical physicist and leads the investment activities for Plug and Play Life Sciences EMEA. He was the first team member of Plug and Play's joint venture with Roche Diagnostics - Startup Creasphere, a digital health innovation framework.

As part of his role, Fabian works with a multitude of Fortune 500 companies on specific projects ranging from enhanced POC capabilities to improving access to healthcare in the global south. Since the inception of Startup Creasphere, Fabian has been leading more than 125 pilots. Additionally, he played a vital role in the expansion of Startup Creasphere to Asia and America. Besides his corporate engagement, Fabian has led investments into 25+ early-stage startups. Some of his prominent portfolio firms include TestCard, Hyfe, Virtonomy and Dyad.